President's Ponderings

Ah, the miracles of this information age- isn't it great that we can reach out and give the message of Rotary Camberwell to the masses out there browsing the Internet. I was enormously impressed with the presentation made by Peter Allen & Greg Cuthbert and the smart approach which should attract the attention of many potential members. I foresee a situation where we will have so many 'hits' on our new domain www.serviceisus.com.au we will have difficulty processing them - let's hope!

Interesting that we can switch it on and off as we wish [or can afford].

Next week's programme should be a real highlight - Lambis Englezos is a history teacher and a bowling buddy of Peter Matthews & mine who has doggedly battled bureaucracy and military historians for six years to find the remains of 400 Australian soldiers listed missing for over 90 years. If you wanted to invite a friend to a Rotary meeting, this would be the one. Partners especially welcome. But don't forget to notify Alan Lorenzini !

One of my Presidential goals this year was to increase our participation in "Hands On" community service projects as evidenced by the list elsewhere in our Bulletin. I believe this is one aspect of Rotary where we can be seen doing good things, and be proud of it.

To that end I am going to circulate a sheet next week asking those members willing to help and be recognised to order a "Rotarian at Work " T shirt at a reduced price of $20 . This would be absolutely voluntary and not meant to restrict our workforce to those wearing the T shirt.

A big welcome back to Patrick Cunniffe, who has been on leave for most of the year doing all sorts of interesting things. He's going to be a big Bunning's customer later in the year when he intends renovating a North Balwyn house.

President Neil

Human Remains Found At Fromelles

"It is suspected the remains of up to 400 Australian and British soldiers who fell during the Battle of Fromelles over 19 and 20 July 1916 lie at the Pheasant Wood site." Research by amateur historian and head of the Friends of the 15th Brigade, Mr Lambis Englezos, contributed to the Army's decision to investigate the site.

Membership Presentation Last Meeting

Peter Allen and Greg Cuthbert presented an initiative from the Membership Committee utilising State of Art Web Principles to target community service focused people. They showed the new domain name site www.serviceisus.com.au which has been set up as a membership focused site and is linked to our main Web site www.camberwellrotary.org.au and which hopes to attract likely members through promotion of with key word search engine advertising and site SEO (Search Engine Optimisation).
